

SRIDHAR (“SRI”) RAMAMOORTI
Ph.D., ACA, CPA, CITP, CIA, CFE, CFSA, CRP, CGAP, CGFM, CICA, FCPA

Sri Ramamoorti is a Partner in the National Corporate Governance Group of Grant Thornton LLP in Chicago. He leads the firm’s thought leadership initiatives in corporate governance and accountability, advising on Sarbanes Oxley, professional standards and other technical matters, contributing to the firm’s professional development programs, promoting university faculty relations, and mentoring younger professionals. He serves as a Grant Thornton practice liaison with the Business Advisory Services (BAS), Economic Advisory Services (EAS) and Global Public Sector (GPS) practices globally. A core member of the Grant Thornton authoring team for the soon-to-be-issued COSO Guidance on Monitoring Internal Control Systems (see www.coso.org), Dr. Ramamoorti is also a co-author on the well-received 2007 textbook, “Internal Auditing: Assurance and Consulting Services” published by the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA), and being translated into Spanish and Japanese.

Before joining Grant Thornton, Dr. Ramamoorti spent 3 ½ years with Ernst & Young (EY) as the Assistant Director of Thought Leadership for the Fraud Investigation and Dispute Services (FIDS) practice and was in-house EY faculty for training over 1000 Ernst & Young partners and principals in “Assessing Fraud Risk: Awareness and Response.” He spearheaded the development of an EY proprietary litigation risk management simulation model that attained “patent pending” status with the U.S. Patent office. Subsequently, Dr. Ramamoorti was also the Sarbanes-Oxley Advisor for the EY National Advisory Practices in North America. Earlier in his career, Sri was a Principal in the Professional Standards Group of Arthur Andersen, participated in the development of proprietary fraud detection models, consulted with engagement personnel on generally accepted auditing standards, represented the firm on the AICPA Financial Instruments Task Force that produced SAS 92, and served as a key liaison in the multi-million dollar Andersen-MIT research collaboration.

Sri earned a Bachelor of Commerce from Bombay University, India, and holds Masters and Ph.D. degrees from The Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. After completing his Ph.D., Sri was on the Accountancy Faculty at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign for a few years. He has published extensively in research and professional journals such as Management Science, European Management Journal, Research in Accounting Ethics, International Journal of Accounting, Issues in Accounting Education, Advances in International Accounting, Journal of Information Systems, International Journal of Intelligent Systems in Accounting, Finance and Management, Internal Auditor, Journal of Government Financial Management, White Paper, Internal Auditing, etc. A frequent speaker at academic and professional conferences, Dr. Ramamoorti has made presentations in the United States, Brazil, Canada, France, the Netherlands, Spain, Turkey, India, and Japan.

Originally trained as a Chartered Accountant from India, Dr. Ramamoorti holds numerous other U.S. professional certifications such as: Certified Public Accountant (CPA), Certified Internal Auditor (CIA), and Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE). Active in the profession, Dr. Ramamoorti is on the Board of Directors of Ascend, Delta Institute, Institute for Business and Professional Ethics (IBPE), Institute for Fraud Prevention (IFP), Information Integrity Coalition (IIC), and serves as Vice-President (Practice) of the Government and Non-Profit Section of the American Accounting Association and on the IIA’s Global Ethics Committee. The incoming co-Chair of the IIA’s globally conducted 2010 Common Body of Knowledge (CBOK) Study, Dr. Ramamoorti is a past Chairman of the Academy for Government Accountability (2005-2008) and Board Trustee of the IIA Research Foundation (2002-2008).
